DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claims 1-5, 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Cybulski et al in view of Woods et al. The patent to Cybulski et al teaches structure substantially as claimed including a pallet, readable device with different orientations and locations on the pallet, the only difference being that the readable device is not carried by a "non-structural member". However, the patent to Woods et al teaches the use of providing non structural element to carry a readable device to be old. It would have been obvious at the time of the invention to modify the structure of Cybulski et al to include a the readable device to be carried in non structural element, as taught by Woods et al since such structures are conventional alternative structures used in the same intended purpose of providing information for transportation and storing structures, thereby providing structure as claimed. It is noted that Cybulski et al discusses different orientations of a device providing varying degrees of performance and the patent to Woods et al a container structure for protection for a readable device thereby providing structure as claimed. To provide well known structures for the same intended purpose would have been obvious and well within the level of ordinary skill in the art. The use of different shapes of the housing and the use of reinforcing elements, such as foam, ribs in the housing are matters of desirability and choice of how much such reinforcement is desired. It is noted that the "non- structural member" of Woods et al could be located in both the top or bottom plane as claimed since the end caps compartments could span such and would have been within the level of ordinary skill in art, common sense and predictable.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 6-19, 21 are allowable over the prior art of record.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 07/02/07 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
